President's Message by Nora Mai

WELCOME TO 2009!

A New Year means different things to different people. To Costumers, it usually means anticipating a new round of events that you'll need new outfits for. Each new outfit has its new list of materials, procedures, accessories and assorted bits and bobs to complete the look.

January is a great time to spend looking for materials in your stash to complete these outfits, and maybe get rid of some extra fabric/trim/supplies you don't need. Unfortunately, it also means finding out you don't actually have everything you need (or can't find it, though you swear it's in there somewhere) which means you'll have to actually buy more fabric/trim/supplies.

A New Year for the ICG means changing faces. First, we have a new newsletter editor (hopefully you noticed that last issue). Cat Robinson took over from Denisen Hartlove this year (thank you Cat; thank you Denisen). I'd like to encourage you all to contribute to the newsletter, more content from more people = a better newsletter.

Second, we have a new website guy. After more years than I can remember, Jeff Morris has handed the reins over to Deech Mestel. Deech is another of my pals here in St. Louis; theory is he'll be at CC27 so walk up and say "Hi!". Another big thank you to Jeff and welcome aboard to Deech.

As for the ICG Board, look for fresh faces there as well. Elections aren't until May (at the annual meeting at CC27), but start thinking about running for a Board position now. I know Bruce MacDermott is looking to retire as Treasurer. He even has someone lined up to take over, which is great. I suspect some others on the Board might be looking to shift around or rotate off this year, so consider whether you might be interested in being President, Vice-President, Corresponding Secretary or Recording Secretary.

Most especially, President; I am definitely NOT running this year. Three years are enough. I've enjoyed a lot of what I've done and hope that my job has been satisfactory to most of the members. I'm really looking forward to someone else stepping in. Want to know what's involved? I'd be happy to talk about it, email me through the ICG website.

New Year – new projects, new faces, new adventures.

~Nora Mai, ICG President
