Dear Mrs. Assarattanakul and the Board of Directors of the International Costumers' Guild,

I am writing to notify you that I am resigning from my position as President of the International Costumers' Guild effective immediately.

I love and appreciate the ICG as a whole. I have only wanted what is best for the organization and considering the current atmosphere among the Board of Directors, I do not believe that my continued tenure of the position effectively serves the Guild. I sincerely hope that the current issues can be resolved and the Guild quickly returns to the business of costuming, including putting appropriate code of conduct and anti-harassment policies in place. I wish the Guild all the best, and will assist in the transition to my successor as necessary.

Yours in Costuming,
Marianne Pease
